

Use Power-points as a focus point or prompt.

They will help you to stay on track.

Do not depend on them, use role play and physical examples to get all involved.

True

friends

Friends

like

to

see

you

happy

Friends

may

cook

you

dinner

Friends

do things

together

Friends make plans

Friends

help

when

you

need

help

Friends

make sure

you

are

OK

and try to

problem

solve

Helping

Friends

help

you

get the

job

done.

False

friends

Friends

would not

embarrass

you

Friends

do not

make

you

do things

you

don't want

to

do.

Friends do not steal from you

Friends do not say mean things about you

Friends do not keep you away from your family

 Friends  do not  hit  you.

?

Why is she giving me gifts

Always

find the

time

to

listen

Smiling

does not

mean

you

are good.

Bad people

do not look

different.